March 19, 2025

International Mathematics Day (IDM) is an annual celebration held on March 14th to promote awareness of the importance of mathematics in our daily lives and in addressing global challenges.

It coincides with Pi Day, which celebrates the mathematical constant pi (π), rounded to 3.14. UNESCO declared March 14th as IDM in 2019.

Inauguration: The event was inaugurated by the Principal Dr. Abhijit Auti, who emphasized the importance of mathematical constants in engineering.

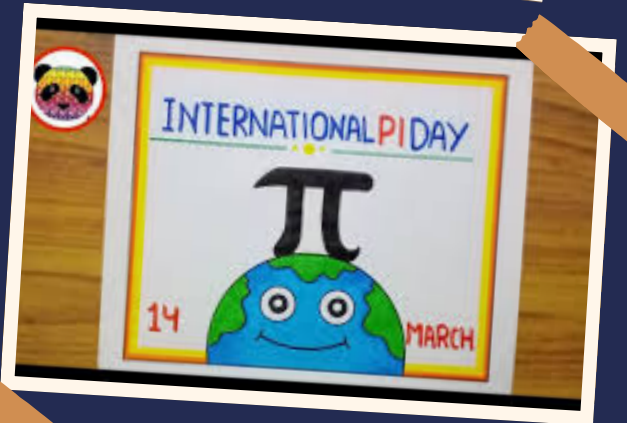

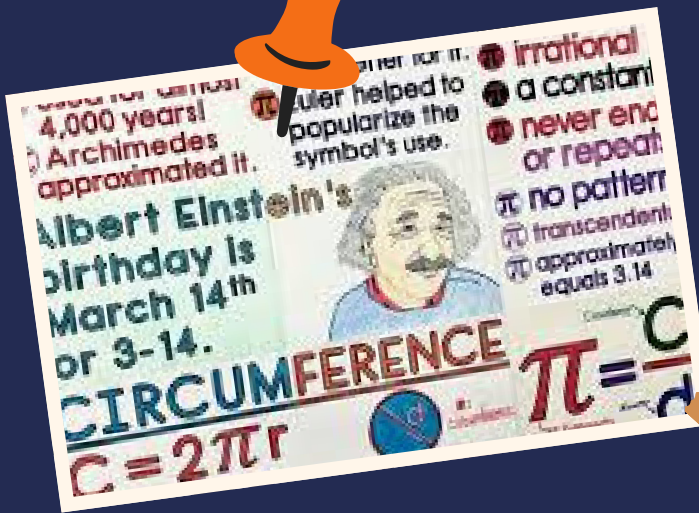

Students from the First-Year Engineering Department actively participated in the competition, showcasing their innovative ideas and research through well-designed posters. The event provided a platform for students to collaborate, discuss, and present their knowledge effectively.

Each participant/team prepared a poster that illustrated the importance of Pi in mathematics, engineering, physics, and technology, along with its historical significance.
